FAVORITE COLOR

When we first met, you asked me what my favorite color was. I had to think about it, because in the past I never had just one.

I liked the yellow of the moon and the sun,
the green of nature when I run,

the pink of the clouds when I'm in love,
the turquoise of the seas when I look down from above.

And I liked the blue of different skies,
but most of all I now love the color of your eyes.

Karl Schnürch
Vienna, Austria, 2025